Imagine this

What if you could sit with 15 handpicked entrepreneurs, investors, and corporate managers — people at your level — and swap use cases of digital tools, workflows, and smart systems that truly changed how you work?

No stage. No audience. Just a trusted circle where everyone shares their top use cases. Not just what they use, but how, why, and what difference it made.

Some tools you've heard of. Others you haven't. But the real value? You'll see them through new use cases, smarter combinations, and proven impact.

This is not a conference. This is where the real stuff gets shared, in a room that earns it.

Everyone contributes. Everyone learns. Everyone walks away sharper.

This is My Secret Stack

An invite-only gathering where everyone in the room brings something to the table.

You'll hear hard-earned lessons, clever shortcuts, apps and tools you may have already heard about — or even used — but suddenly see in a completely new light.

A different context. A smarter use case. A fresh paradigm that reveals potential you hadn't considered before. And you'll share your own.

No stage. No audience. Just a trusted circle of people at your level, where everyone shares their top 1-2 digital tools. Not just what they use, but how, why, and what difference it made.

Digital toolkit

A powerful AI tool, use case, or custom GPT.

An app for desktop, tablet, or phone that earns a spot on your home screen.

A browser extension that makes life easier.

An automation built with Zapier, Make.com, or another integration platform.

A productivity system that actually sticks.

A combination of digital tools that just work beautifully together.

Participation Guidelines

To protect the quality of the experience, these guidelines are essential, and expected from everyone in the room:

Everyone contributes

This is not a spectator event. Each participant is expected to present 1-2 tools or workflows in 5-10 mins, that have made a real difference in their work.

Personal and practical

Share what you actually use, not your company's stack or general tool suggestions. We're here for authentic, experience-based insights.

Tell the story

The value lies in understanding how you use it, why it matters, and what changed because of it.

No pitching

It's fine if you helped build a tool, just don't pitch it. This space is for learning, not selling.

Respect the circle

What's shared stays confidential, but you and others are free to build on the ideas and tools exchanged.

Your contribution continues

A curated list of the top tools and shared stories will be created after the event. It's how we extend the value beyond the room.

You are invited

Please note that this invitation is addressed to you personally and is not transferable.

The participation fee is €100 + VAT, which includes food and drinks.
